Reference: a. DJSM 32-61 JRC of 20 Dec 1961

1. Subject meeting was held on 8 January 1962 in response to reference a. List of attendees is included as Enclosure (1).

2. A draft outline of a proposed annex to the JCS Plan entitled "Supplementary Data Collection Operations During Soviet Extra-Territorial Missile Tests" was submitted to the conferees. The draft annex formed the basis of the subsequent discussions.

3. It was proposed that three annexes to the basic plan be prepared, the first to cover Soviet missile tests as above, the second and third to cover earth satellite vehicle and space probe events respectively. Concurrently, the JCS Plan covering these types of operations would be revised as necessary to include provisions for these annexes. During this revision the changes proposed by the various agencies and not included in the plan as approved by the JCS would be incorporated.

4. The format of the three annexes would resemble that of the draft provided. The conferees were requested to submit comments and recommendations on the format and content of the draft.

5. Responsibilities for compiling material for inclusion in appendices to the three annexes were assigned as described below. Deadline for submission of material to the Joint Staff (JRC) was set as 15 February. Conferees agreed to assure that material, as submitted, was coordinated throughout the community and within their respective agencies and services prior to submission, and to keep the JRC informed on progress being made in compiling the material.
